

Answers for the Technical Era

KIT Humans and Technology Focus Presents Itself at the City Hall

Man in the center? The KIT Humans and Technology Focus deals with interactions between society and science. (Graphics: Wilfrid Schroeder, KIT)

Technology changes our life, from work to mobility to the environment to culture. What are the consequences for man? How can man design this process in a sensible manner? Answers are given by scientists of the KIT Humans and Technology Focus. On Wednesday, July 04, 2012, 18.30 hrs, they will present their work under the heading of “Technik reflektieren – Gesellschaft gestalten“(Reflecting Technology – Designing Society) at the Karlsruhe city hall.
